Kazeon Named One of KMWorld's 100 Companies that Matter in Knowledge Management

eDiscovery industry leader honored for 3rd consecutive year

Mountain View, Calif. --- March 17, 2009 --- Kazeon Systems, Inc., a leading provider of intelligent eDiscovery solutions, today announced that it has been named one of KMWorld's 100 Companies that Matter in Knowledge Management for 2009. The list was compiled through a collaborative effort between knowledge management practitioners, theorists, analysts, vendors and their customers and colleagues. This is the ninth year of the list and the third year in a row Kazeon has been selected for inclusion.

"Each company embodies as part of its culture agile and limber execution of its mission, embracing a spirit of both adaptability and innovation," said Hugh McKellar, editor in chief of KMWorld.

"We are honored to be included on this list for the third year in a row," said Kazeon CEO Sudhakar Muddu. "Kazeon's unique end-to-end eDiscovery capabilities have been validated by its increasing adoption by enterprise customers, and growing partnerships with legal service providers. Kazeon has always focused on spending its resources and investments on R&D to create disruptive technology to solve end-to-end eDiscovery and Information Management challenges for customers. This recognition from KMWorld provides further validation of Kazeon's ability to fulfill all demanding and expansive in-house eDiscovery needs."

This is the latest in a series of accolades Kazeon has received, including Gartner's eDiscovery 2008 MarketScope where Kazeon was rated 'Positive' for end-to-end eDiscovery and the Socha-Gelbmann eDiscovery Survey 2008 where Kazeon was recognized as a Top 5 eDiscovery Software Provider.

Kazeon recently announced the expansion of their in-house eDiscovery solution for enterprise customers in the areas of eDiscovery analysis and review, legal hold workflow and content analytics, further cementing their leadership in the eDiscovery software market.
